

Ali Elyassi, DDS

GREENBELT ORAL & FACIAL SURGERY

Oral & Maxillofacial Surgery is a commonly misunderstood specialty. Inappropriately, but sometimes, the oral surgeon is identified as a “dentist”. The reality is not only are these surgeons trained in dentistry, but they have an additional 4-6 years of additional training in medicine, anesthesia, general surgery, plastic surgery, and other aspects of the medical field. The scope of oral surgery ranges from simple wisdom teeth extractions or implants all the way to being able to reconstruct the skull of a human being during severe trauma or pathology.

Dr. Ali R. Elyassi is dual-board certified with both the American Board of Oral & Maxillofacial Surgery and National Board of Dental Anesthesiology. He received his dental degree at the University of Maryland, Baltimore College of Dental Surgery. He completed his Oral & Maxillofacial Surgery Residency through the United States Army at Tripler Army Medical Center. Dr. Elyassi went on to serve his country in the United States Army for a total of 10 years, serving our troops and their families. He received numerous achievement, commendation, and meritorious medals through the Army for his publications in peer-reviewed journals and devotion to his students and troops. He was designated as an Assistant Professor for the Uniformed Services University of the Health Sciences. After 10 years in the Army, he voluntarily and honorably discharged to open his practice at Greenbelt Oral & Facial Surgery. His private practice continues to receive recognition including Washingtonian Top Dentist and the BioHorizons Titanium Award with Excellence in Implant Dentistry. His words of wisdom and success are those we have heard before, but easily want to rehear, “give and you will get serve and you will be served”. He brings the latest technology, including a CT-scan navigated implant machine, to place dental implants and treat his patients with the best care possible.
